Pupils are respectful and polite in their conduct towards each other.

Pupils feel safe when at school and know how to report concerns about bullying

The development of pupils' respect for others is a strong aspect of the school's ethos. Pupils speak confidently and told inspectors that they are free to be themselves at this school Pupils have a good understanding of what bullying is and leaders take action to deal with it quickly.

Pupils are excited by the trips and visits that leaders organise.

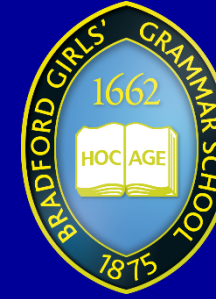

Staff are proud to work at the school.
